

Robbie and the Dolphins

Robbie at home

Imagine what Robbie said to his mother when he arrived home from the Sunday School picnic. What do you think her reaction would have been?

Use the space to draw a picture of Robbie and his mother at home. What do you think the room where they talked looked like? The story is set in the 1940s, so there would have been no TV. In what other ways may the home have been different from a house today?

When you have finished your picture, turn over this page and write a script of the conversation that you think may have occurred.
