

One Perfect Day

Getting into role

Divide students into groups of four. Cut out role cards and distribute to group members. Allow students a few minutes to read their role cards and focus on the situation before they commence their role-play.

You are Mr Thompson

It is late in the day on May 9, 1927. You have just driven with Billy back to Mr Cuddy's farmhouse. You go into the kitchen and find the people you assume are Mr and Mrs Cuddy sitting at the table. What will you say and do?

You are Billy

It is late in the day on May 9, 1927. You have just driven with your father, Mr Thompson, back to Mr and Mrs Cuddy's farmhouse. You go into the kitchen and find Mr and Mrs Cuddy sitting at the table. What will you say and do?

You are Mr Cuddy

It is late in the day on May 9, 1927. You have just come in from working on the farm and are sitting at the kitchen table. Billy, who has been missing all day, walks in with a stranger. What will you say and do?

You are Mrs Cuddy

It is late in the day on May 9, 1927. You have just sat down at the kitchen table with your husband. Billy, who has been missing all day, walks in with a stranger. What will you say and do?
