About the National Museum of Australia

The National Museum of Australia brings to life the rich and diverse stories of Australia through compelling objects, ideas and events. We focus on First Nations histories and cultures, European settlement and our interaction with the environment.

The Museum interprets Australian social history by revealing the stories of ordinary and extraordinary Australians, promoting the exploration of knowledge and ideas, and providing a dynamic forum for discussion and reflection.

Work experience at the Museum

The Museum is committed to supporting students in their studies. Students over the age of 14 are eligible to apply if they are seeking a work experience placement formally sponsored by their school.

Successful applicants undertake work experience for a period of one week, Monday to Friday, 8.45am to 5.15pm, unless otherwise negotiated. The Museum will communicate with the student and work experience coordinator to arrange placement dates. Please note that placement dates are determined in accordance with your indicated availability and the Museum's requirements.

The Museum is an Australian Government Agency and work experience participants are required to uphold the Australian Public Service Code of Conduct while working at the Museum. Read the Code of Conduct at <https://www.apsc.gov.au/working-aps/integrity/integrity-resources/code-of-conduct>

Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander people and those from culturally diverse backgrounds are encouraged to apply.
